

LOUIS D. STOBER, JR. IS A SEASONED PROFESSIONAL

with more than 28 years of experience in discrimination, labor and civil service law. Representing two of the largest labor unions in New York, Mr. Stober has won millions of dollars for the union and its members over the years. His quest for excellence applies to all areas of the law, including personal injury, real estate and estate law.

Coming from a union family and having been an active member of the Moving Picture Machine Operators Union throughout college and law school, it was a natural choice for Mr. Stober to focus on the labor and employment field. "Every day that I can make a difference in working families, lives, and winning one for the Davids of the world against the Goliaths is gratifying. It's professionally and personally satisfying to know my hard work has righted a wrong," he explains.

A multi-year Super Lawyer award winner and Martindale-Hubbell® AV rated preeminent attorney, Mr. Stober brings a level of professionalism that reflects his dedication to his clients. His expertise in discrimination cases has taken notice front and center with multi-million dollar verdicts. As for his definition of success, he explains, "Aside from the obvious monetary award, the sense of satisfaction comes from my clients – the fact that I have succeeded where perhaps no one else thought it was possible." With many cases that have set precedent in New York and the federal courts, Louis Stober has broken ground in the labor and discrimination law. ■
